

GSE BeLux Regional Conference October 18th, 2022

Guide Share Europe (GSE) is an independent non-profit association of companies, organizations and individuals who are involved with IT solutions based on IBM architectures. On October 18th, GSE BeLux will organize a Regional Conference dealing with interesting topics that currently keep all IT professionals, who want to be relevant for society and business, occupied. We aim at 150+ visitors. The Conference will be held in the Elewijt Center in Elewijt (Zemst) on October 18th and will cover a full day.

This year's theme will be "The impact of (artificial) intelligence". How will the world change in the coming years with the growing use of AI? What are the trends that we can expect in the world of AI and Machine Learning? What are and will be the business possibilities? And what about the ethical aspects of the use of AI? What is the expected impact on business and IT departments and how can you anticipate bottlenecks?
